FiberBuilt Umbrellas & Cushions, the leading manufacturer of fiberglass ribbed umbrellas, is pleased to announce that it has moved into larger quarters in order to expand its operations, increase production capacity, and add a showroom where designers, hoteliers, and end-users are invited to visit and inspect all the features that make FiberBuilt's umbrellas unique.

The new location at 2201 W. Atlantic Blvd in Pompano Beach, FL provides 63,000 square feet of efficient and organized production space as well as room for hundreds of rolls of marine and furniture grade fabrics and frame components, and a large assembly and shipping departments. There's also a 2000 square foot showroom where umbrellas, including the FiberTeak™ models in the Prestige Collection and cantilevers from the Euro Collection as well as structures such as a Pavilion, are set up to show a variety of canopy options and finish choices.

President of Sales Jordan Beckner said, "In addition to being able to produce many more umbrellas, as well as cushions and pillows for both FiberBuilt and our Paradise Cushions division, and we now have space and workforce to provide exterior drapes to hotels and resorts who are looking to add a soft, decorative element to breezeways or private, cabana-like areas for their guests. The new location with a showroom will be a true benefit to designers in the south Florida area who would like to bring their clients by to examine our products and choose the best style, size, and options for their property."
