

Combining Style With Comfort

For 25 years, FiberBuilt Umbrellas & Cushions has specialized in manufacturing shade products that enhance the decor of all types of al fresco dining locations and outdoor lounge areas at restaurants, hotels, country clubs and cruise ships. Designers and property owners are drawn to the breadth of FiberBuilt's umbrella styles and the scope of canopy options that create distinctive and inviting environments. Structural integrity is the hallmark of FiberBuilt's umbrellas. They feature one-piece aluminum poles, fiberglass ribs, heavy duty hubs, and powder coated and proprietary FiberTeak™ simulated wood finishes. The Prestige and Studio FiberBuilt umbrellas are 93% made in America and are engineered to be durable as well as fashionable.

These contract-grade collections, from contemporary to traditional, are well-suited for restaurant use. They range from 8-foot octagonal in-table models to 20-foot square models furnishing shade to multiple tables to 10-foot square cantilevers with small footprints that provide substantial shade.

Designers can customize a standard umbrella by choosing from a dozen valance styles (or create their own unique design), add fringe for a graceful flutter or specify logos to be silk screened onto the canopy for landmarking or subtle signage.

To ensure years of problem-free performance in high winds or for rooftop umbrellas, FiberBuilt offers double vent and extra-large Aruba vent canopies for superior wind management. To accompany the umbrellas, aluminum, concrete and steel bases are available in various weights and finishes, with and without wheels.

All products are made to order, customized to your specifications, and have short lead times. You know that guests appreciate the comfort of stylish shade. To ensure that outdoor dining and lounge areas are dressed to impress, FiberBuilt's products are Built for Comfort and Built to Last. FiberBuilt also produces replacement cushions to fit and refresh your existing furniture. The memorably delicious part of your guests' experience, FiberBuilt leaves up to you.
