

Once again the industry gathered in New York City to learn what new and exciting hospitality products are available.

Traffic at the FiberBuilt booth was constant and customers were particularly interested in our large scale models, scalloped valances, LED lighting, custom cushions, bases and design options.

“ ‘Tis the Season” season may be on its way, but bright sunny days still mean that shade is essential for guest comfort.

It was great to see so many of our reps from around the country who attended the show. Special thanks to:
